

Born, died in Bulgaria but forever an American

By VALERIE EVENDEN
of the Press-Record

For 71 years, the late Verka Kroteff had rejected any thoughts of returning to her native land—Bulgaria.

She was 100 percent American and wanted to know her adopted country throughout its length and breadth. She had neither the time nor the inclination to travel to Europe, a sentiment she had expressed vociferously to her family and friends on many occasions.

But, circumstances change. Verka Kroteff, nee Gosheff, died Oct. 24 in Pleven, Bulgaria, a town which she left as a 2-year-old child when her family decided to seek a new life in the United States.

The widely known Granite City woman is buried in an ancient family plot in Pleven, alongside her grandfather, Vasil Gosheff, and a 4-year-old sister, Katinka, who died before the family left its homeland.

Although her remains presently are in a land foreign to her ideals and beliefs, she will not be forgotten here.

Verka had planted firm roots in Granite City and her influence helped to shape this community in many ways.

Special services in tribute to her memory will take place at 2 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 17, at the First United Presbyterian Church, 22nd Street and Delmar Avenue, where Verka was a 25-year member.

Her story is a saga of an American woman and may illustrate what this nation represents to millions of immigrants who sought and still seek a haven and a future in the freest of all nations.

The United States of America meant more to Verka Kroteff than to many native Americans.

She was proud of her country and community and expressed that pride vocally and in writing.

Over past years, her letters frequently were published in The Forum of the Press-Record and they reflected her positive attitude concerning an issue.

The Gosheffs arrived in the United States when Verka was 2 and lived for a few years in Manslin and Canton, Ohio.

Her father, Prodrom Gosheff, and an uncle, Pondo Gosheff, went into business in Lincoln Place, operating a coffee shop and eating place, a community gathering spot for men, mostly those having come here from Central Europe.

When Verka was about 10, her father was shot to death during an argument in his place of business. There are indications that Verka may have witnessed the tragedy.

Her mother, Tsonia, continued to operate the coffee shop for a while, developing the restaurant side of the business.

She remarried, however, and moved to St. Louis.

Verka attended McKinley High School then and graduated as valedictorian of her class in 1925.

The same year, after graduation, she married Stephan Kroteff in Granite City and began another new life here.

They had a daughter, Joy, now Mrs. Robert Brydon. She lives in Campbell, Calif., and has two children, Janice, 23, and Richard, 22.

Verka retired a few years ago from Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., where she was employed 42 years.

Twenty of those years she was office supervisor, but she also was a trained insurance agent, having worked as such during World War II when manpower was limited.

As an agent, she broke several million dollar sales records.

She held the office of president and vice president of the Metropolitan Life Veterans Association's St. Louis Chapter and she was publisher of the company's periodical that won many honors.

Verka also was a member of the association's Peoria Chapter, a former member of the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club and a strong supporter of the University of Illinois, where she had taken courses. She also was a keen contributor and donor to the Granite City Public Library.

In the recent past, Verka became active with the Shaw's Gardens Association and was given full responsibility for the care and maintenance of the rose garden area.

She had told fellow members that she was going to the Rose Capital of the World (Bulgaria) and perhaps would return with some new ideas.

Bulgaria is the world's largest exporter of rose oil, the base for most perfumes.

She had begun another new aspect of her busy life earlier this year when she

Crowd hails return of the all-conquering Warriors

By KEVIN ALLEN
of the Press-Record

They stood gathered just as they had the last several years.

Drums and pulses pounding, faces smiling, they kept vigils on the stretch of Namekiki Road in front of Granite City High School South yesterday afternoon. They were awaiting the return of champions.

They were a crowd of parents, friends and other assorted South soccer loyalists. They turned out at the school to receive the 1979 Illinois state soccer champions, the South Warriors.

South won its fourth consecutive state championship Saturday night with a come from behind 3-1 victory over New Trier East at Palatine High School near Chicago.

Just as similar gatherings—many of these same people among them—had waited for the return of the newly crowned 1976, '77 and '78 state champion Warriors, the crowd was eager and yet patient as it watched and waited.

The sirens of the police car, ambulance and fire truck that served as an escort for the busload of Warriors drew cheers from the crowd as the procession came into sight.

It was apparent the wait was over. It was natural that the first thing the newcomers would see when the doors of the big bus swung open was the symbol of the championship—the big trophy.

It was a smile growing from joy, relief, and perhaps a bit of self-consciousness that South's Randy DeRousse flashed as he carried the huge state championship trophy down the steps of the bus. It was a group of weary but happy players that followed him into Memorial Gymnasium.

He put the trophy in the center of the gym. The players seated themselves, somewhat like a church congregation, in a row at the far end. South Coach Gene Baker received hugs from friends

Tax relief in seven weeks—Vadalabene

By BILL WINTER
Editor

"The governor told me that he would veto it and there would be no tax relief at all," State Senator Sam M. Vadalabene told the Press-Record Thursday night in explaining why he voted "no" in a 27-27 deadlock that evening on expanding Gov. Thompson's one-cent sales tax cut on food and medicine. The one-cent slash will go in effect in seven weeks, on Jan. 1.

Most members of Vadalabene's Democratic party opposed the Republican chief executive on the issue. But "Senator Sam" said the key need was to achieve tax relief regardless of who received the credit, rather than in effect blocking all tax reduction and then blaming Thompson.

Sen. Vadalabene learned about the veto plan while urging the governor to have the Illinois Transportation Department approve state permit for start of construction work related to the Alton lock and dam replacement.

Instead of the veto, which was made unnecessary by the tie vote on the Democratic amendment, the governor a short time later smilingly signed the tax cut legislation following resounding 54-1 Senate approval.

The amendment would have cut the food and drug sales tax by one cent next July 1 as part of phased elimination of that portion of the state sales tax. The overall tax is five cents on the dollar (four cents state and one cent local) and the second cent of the cut would have been effective on Oct. 1, with the other two cents of the state's share deleted over the following two years. Instead, one cent will be eliminated almost immediately, and Sen. Vadalabene sees the possibility of a second reduction being enacted next year.

Cities' and counties' sales taxes will continue without interruption. Sen. Vadalabene commented his (Continued on Page 9)

Sale to minor is alleged

Allegations that illegal sale of alcohol to a minor was taking place at a liquor store resulted in officers watching the business firm Thursday and arresting a sales clerk and four other people at 8:30 p.m.

After observing a vehicle at the drive-up window at the J & J Liquor Store, 3112 Maryville Road, and allegedly seeing an eight-pack of beer handed to a passenger, officers stopped the car at Maryville and Wilson Avenues.

The occupants arrested were a 16-year-old male passenger, two passengers in the rear seat, Kathy S. Hutter, 18, of 2560 Northbridge, and Ricky L. Lakin, 18, of 4 Concord St.;

and the driver, Steven W. Adams, 20, of 2720 Maryville Road.

Lakin, Miss Hutter and the juvenile were each charged with being minors in possession of alcohol.

Adams was charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

The officers then returned to J & J and arrested the sales clerk, Brenda Gail Stearns, 29, of 2820 Edgewood Ave., charging her with illegal sale to a minor. She said Friday that the charge is without basis and that it will be fought in court. She added that she was aware of the surveillance by police.

The owner was advised to close the store following the arrests, police said.

Auto emission testing ahead

A joint committee of the Illinois House and Senate will conduct a public hearing this week to discuss proposed legislation to direct a federal requirement, directing the state of Illinois to annually test automobile tailpipe emissions in the Chicago and Madison-St. Clair counties metropolitan area.

The Chicago hearing, the first in a series of five, will be held at 10 a.m. Wednesday, Nov. 14, in Room 1923 of the State of Illinois Building, 180 North LaSalle St. A hearing in this area is planned for Jan. 11.

The six county metropolitan Chicago area, which includes Cook, DuPage, Will, Lake, McHenry and Kane counties, and the area of Madison and St. Clair counties will be affected initially by the mandatory auto emission testing program.

The inspection program is mandated by the 1977 Clean Air Act Amendments. The Act now requires that testing must begin by 1982 in any urban areas of the nation which fail to attain the clean air standards for ozone and carbon monoxide by that date.

An Illinois Environmental Protection Agency study has concluded that neither Chicago nor the local urban area will meet the clean-up deadline.

May run out of Venice school funds this winter

By VALERIE EVENDEN
of the Press-Record

From the information contained in a capsule financial summary and projections for the year given by the Venice School District at its meeting Thursday night, it appears the Venice School District may be unable to operate after mid-February.

"Based on the estimated receipts and expenditures depicted for the period Nov. 1 through Jan. 31, we should have enough money to operate through this period and might possibly meet one pay period in February," Supt. of Schools Robert N. Vickers informed the board, reiterating the contents of the report he had prepared.

Non-teaching employees are not included in the three-month projection, Vickers stated.

Building Services Local 98 members working in the Venice School System currently are negotiating a new contract with the district. "This district definitely will not have enough money to complete the school year," Supt. Vickers emphasized.

He said in the report that estimated receipts in November are $27,228 from state aid, special education reimbursements and miscellaneous sources.

Expenditures during this month are anticipated at $56,000 for salaries and $7,500 in various bills, leaving a balance of $77,422 in the working cash fund by Nov. 30.

Expected receipts in December are $22,428, including from state aid ($11,928), lunch reimbursement ($7,500) and $3,000 miscellaneous. Added to the balance from the previous month, gives a total available of $102,850.

Expenditures in the same month will be $63,500, leaving $39,350 in the working cash fund.

The financial picture in January reflects an even more dismal projection, resulting in only $18,078 balance left in the working cash fund after expenses of $63,500 are deducted from a total available of $81,578.

It is projected that a total of $391,240 will be received between February and June, including $59,640 in state aid, $18,600 in special education reimbursement, $30,000 lunch reimbursements, $60,000 in corporate reprieve tax money and $24,000 from other sources.

Estimated expenditures, however, list $316,000 for salaries and $37,500 for miscellaneous bills, leaving a total of $132,290 needed to meet expenses through June 30, 1979.

An additional $225,000 in first or second year anticipation warrants would enable the district to meet expenses through June 30, 1979.

The amount of taxes collected to date from the 1978 tax schedule amounts to $50,250, but the district was required to first repay tax anticipation warrants with the money.

Veterans honored here

By VALERIE EVENDEN
of the Press-Record

Brilliant sunshine and a biting cold wind with the temperature hovering just above the freezing mark greeted a crowd of about 50 persons which gathered at 10:30 a.m. Sunday to pay tribute to deceased veterans at the war memorial plaque on the City Hall lawn in Granite City.

Led by Amvets Post 51 and Auxiliary, the Veterans' Day services on Nov. 11, formerly Armistice Day, were opened with the national anthem played by trumpeter Tim Passig of Granite City High School South.

Prayer was offered by Father Victor, pastor of St. Joseph Catholic Church. Mrs. Betty Wilkins of Amvets

Auxiliary 51 was in charge of the program and dignitaries were introduced by Clay Varner, Post 51 commander.

Appropriate remarks were offered by U.S. Army Major Michael Ruiz of the Granite City Army Installation and City Clerk Robert W. Stevens.

A special guest was Joseph Glik, who donated the memorial marker on the City Hall lawn.

The honor guard consisted of Mrs. Jackie Petras, who also led the pledge of allegiance, Leo Clement, Mrs. Glenda Brockman and Nick Torregrossa, all of Amvets 51.

Smolich won't let Douglas 'intimidate' him, department

Assistant Fire Chief George Smolich at Tuesday night's City Council session vigorously defended his performance of duties, and read a statement in rebuttal to words spoken at the Oct. 23 meeting by Alderman Charles Douglas.

Douglas' only response Tuesday night was that he had been quoting unnamed persons and that he was basically asking whether such allegations were true, rather than asserting they were accurate.

Smolich smoldered at Douglas' use of the council floor to "accuse me of being ineffective, incompetent and derelict in my duties due to what he terms consistent absenteeism."

"In the past 4½ years, I have missed exactly one day of work due to a minor illness. Ald. Douglas stated I was on the golf course every Thursday, and left town every Friday."

"I play golf, but contrary to what he stated, I do this only as compensation for the time I devote to such off-time activities as weekend water flow tests, specialized training activities (Saturdays and Sundays), arson investigations; attending seminars on weekends; appearing before civic and fraternal organizations; attending instructional seminars sponsored by the state fire marshal; and attending county meetings after regular hours in reference to fire department interests."

"At times I am absent on Fridays but only because I am entitled to 25 days' vacation. This benefit was secured through the efforts of Firefighters Local 253 and this City Council. Existing rules do not forbid me from taking Fridays or any other day off as earned vacation time."

"If the fire chief is out of town for any reason, I then remain in town for any type of call-out situation," Assistant Chief Smolich said.

All of my Fridays or other days of vacation are documented in a vacation logbook kept in my office. This book is available for anyone's inspection. Attendance records also are kept, in the city clerk's office.

"These accusations are a reflection on my character and integrity, and are an embarrassment to my fire department. They also cast a poor reflection on the rest of the fire department."

"It has taken the department a long time to achieve the good image we enjoy in this community. This has been possible through the relationships existing between the chief, the officers, the men, the firefighters union and the Council itself."

"I have been a fireman for close to 27 years. Not once during this time until now have I ever been accused of being negligent, indifferent or irresponsible. I don't intend to stand mute at these allegations. They are malicious, inflammatory, without substance and totally untrue. Wherever the information was secured, it is all lies."

"I challenge Ald. Douglas to furnish valid, concrete evidence to substantiate these accusations directed at me. Since becoming an employee of this city, I've never been accused of any type of unsavory behavior that might cast a negative image on myself or the fire department."

My letter to the Council on fire hazards in this city had no hidden connotations or inferences. It was not directed at anyone. I sent that communication to the mayor and Council because it is my responsibility and yours mine as a fire prevention officer and yours as representatives of the people in your wards in eliminating hazards to public safety.

"I'm not trying to sell myself to this Council. I'm just defending myself and the rest of the fire department. We have a good, efficient department; the officers and men are quite capable."

"The morale is high. I believe I have their respect, and I respect them. I was appointed to this job by Mayor Schuler in concurrence with the City Council."

"I will continue to be an effective member of the fire department, and I don't intend to be intimidated by the untrue remarks made by Ald. Douglas and by those 'several citizens' he has made reference to. By no means should this be construed as an apology. Ald. Douglas, I do not owe you or anyone else an apology."

Elect officers at Nameoki Presbyterian

Earl French, Wilford Widows and Elmer Goode were elected to the Session of the Nameoki United Presbyterian Church at a congregational meeting last week.

They will be installed and ordained in December, beginning their active service of three-year terms in January.

The trio will join the church governing board's five current members, Mrs. Harold (Joyce) Toussaint, Charles Bosworth, Mrs. Wayne (Marilyn) Price, Kenneth Aud. Albert Bagl and Mrs. William (Nona) Corzilius.

The retiring elders are Ray Hankins, Jo Ann Watts and Eugene Pinn.

Moderator of the Session in the Rev. Don F. Pierson, pastor.

In further action, the congregation elected Bill McMurray, John Kowalk and Mrs. Watts to the Board of Deacons.

Rev. Pierson said along with the usual concerns for visiting the sick, aiding the distressed and serving in a variety of tasks, the Board of Deacons functions as the "fellowship committee" of the congregation.

As such, the deacons are committed to creating a sense of community and caring among the members, highlighted by a monthly all-church fellowship event, the pastor said.

Others on the board are James Lamb, Mrs. Larry (Mindi) Haughey, Dr.

Harold Toussaint, Mrs. Fred (Barbara) Barr, Dallas Dame and Mrs. Mary Thrane.

Outgoing deacons are David King, James Watson and Genevieve McComis. Mrs. Robert (Patricia) Polley will serve another year as church treasurer and Fred Barr will replace Victor Anderson as church financial secretary.

Nameoki Presbyterian Church is located at 1700 Pontoon Road.

Morning worship services start at 10:45 a.m. each Sunday, and church school convenes at 9:30 a.m., Rev. Pierson said.

Meet on ramifications of sexual assaults in area

Physical and psychological effects and the social and legal aspects of sexual assault will be discussed Wednesday at a meeting of the Women's Club of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Guest speakers will be Pamela Klein, director of the Rape and Sexual Abuse Care Center at SIUE, and Edwardsville attorney Stephanie Robbins.

According to program chairman Doris Winter of Edwardsville, the informal meeting will open at 6:30 p.m. with refreshments in the Missouri Room of the University Center.

The meeting is open to SIUE friends, Mrs. Winter said. "We hope that in the discussion following the speeches and 20-minute film, those present will feel free to speak their minds and ask any questions they might have relating to this serious problem.

"According to experts, the key to the rape problem lies in its prevention. Only thorough knowledge and increased community awareness can help achieve that."

Stefanie's celebrating its 14th year

By DONNA HARTWICK of the Press-Record
"Fourteen years in the fashion store business have brought us many, many good friends and customers," exclaimed Rudy and Esther Novik Friday as they marked the anniversary of Stefanie's Dress Shop. They have owned and operated the establishment since the opening day Nov. 9, 1965.

The opening day had special significance, since it marked the fifth birthday of Mr. and Mrs. Novik's daughter, Stefanie, for whom the store was named.

Novik has no novice in the fashion field, as he had managed clothing stores in East St. Louis for 20 years prior to opening the local store at 1322 Nineteenth St., formerly known as the Sally Ann Shop. His wife, Esther, was employed as an executive secretary for the National Conference of Christians and Jews in St. Louis when they met, and she has been associated with the business for the past years.

Rudy and Esther, as they prefer to be called, offer individual services to customers, especially if one needs a specific style not available at the store.

"We have apparel in sizes 3 to 20 and have complementary accessories for any occasion, Mrs. Novik said.

Extensive selections of jewelry, cosmetics, leather bags, gloves and scarves are featured in the store as well as lingerie, coats, suits, dresses, gowns and a full line of sportswear and casual fashions.

To assist customers in making a choice to suit their needs and appearance, the store has five employees. Novik added, "Our primary purpose at the store is to outfit women flatteringly, or it is a reflection against us, not the customer."

Beauty students to work in psychiatric ward here

Cosmetology students at Granite City High Schools North and South will now be able to work on patients in the psychiatric ward of St. Elizabeth Medical Center as part of the cosmetology curriculum.

The new program will go into effect for one semester and continuance will depend on its success.

According to Donald

Shaffner, coordinator of off-campus education, service to the patients can be a positive part of their recovery.

The Granite City School of Beauty Culture will provide a teacher to accompany the students, and only two to three students will be involved at a time.

Students will go to the hospital one day a week, with students rotating the experience. It will be a voluntary program for those who want to participate.

Only seniors in the cosmetology program will take part. All work done by the students will be supervised by a hospital attendant and an instructor from the beauty school. A beauty shop is part of the Psychiatric Wing facilities.

INDIAN PROGRAM
Chief White Eagle, a native American Indian, will present an Indian lore program to three elementary schools in the Granite City School District in the near future. His visit will be sponsored by Tri-Mor Bowl and the Brunswick Corporation.

Galvanizing production record set

Granite City Steel has announced that a monthly record in rate of production has been set by its 7A Galvanizing Line. The line, which continually coats coils of steel with a thin film of zinc, operated at 25 tons per hour during October, breaking the former record of 24.4 tons per hour set in December 1978.

Commenting on the achievement, GC Steel President James V. Stack said, "If we at Granite City Steel—hard National Steel—are to be cost-competitive against other producers, including our foreign competition, it's going to take continued improvements in our productivity."

"Lack of adequate productivity is a key aspect in this country's continued inflation. By improving our steelmaking rate, we can not only help secure our jobs but also help to cool off the inflation rate."

"I hope some of our production units will follow the example set last month by the 7A Line."

BUSINESS MEETING

May offer optional long distance calls

Telephone customers throughout Illinois, outside of the Chicago metropolitan area, may soon be able to call long distance within 25 miles of their communities and receive up to a 30 percent discount on those calls.

The new service called "Pick-A-Point Service" would be an optional long distance calling plan within Illinois.

It has been presented to the Illinois Commerce Commission by Illinois Bell Telephone Company and, if it is approved, all telephone companies in Illinois will offer the same service to their customers.

Under the plan, Pick-A-Point Service would replace Selective Calling Service, an existing optional calling plan offered by all companies.

Pick-A-Point Service offers a larger discount to the majority of telephone customers than does Selective Calling Service, and also is regarded as easier to understand.

Under Pick-A-Point Service, customers could select any number of exchanges they want within a 25-mile radius of their communities and could save up to 30 percent on their regular long distance charges to those exchanges.

For each exchange selected, there would be a $2 minimum monthly long distance charge for residence customers, and a $4 minimum charge for business customers.

The Commerce Commission is considering Bell's proposal and plans to hold public hearings. The effective date of the new service is expected to be early 1980.

Selective Calling Service, which Pick-A-Point Service would replace, gives customers one-half hour of calling time to nearby exchanges for a flat monthly fee. The monthly fee depends on the number of exchanges selected and on the distance of the customer's exchanges from the exchanges they are calling.

Illinois Bell has asked the Commerce Commission to limit Selective Calling Service to existing customers when Pick-A-Point Service becomes available, and to discontinue selective calling three months later. All other telephone companies would also discontinue Selective Calling Service at the same time.

REGGIE VINSON AT CHURCH WEDNESDAY
Former rock star Reggie Vinson will appear at the Tri-City Park Tabernacle, Maryville Road and Clark Avenue, Wednesday at 7 p.m.

Before becoming a gospel singer and evangelist, Vinson had worked with such stars as John Lennon, Jimi Hendrix, Kiss and Liberace. The public is being invited to attend.

Annexation lawsuit is discussed

Chouteau township officials met Wednesday night with attorney Joseph Hill to discuss ways in which the township could attempt to block an annexation by Granite City and Granite City Township of a prime industrial area west of Route 3.

The town board decided after discussing its alternatives not to the action at this time to back the annexation of the property, which is owned by Illinois Power Co.

The Wednesday night meeting was called after a regular meeting Monday night in which officials were reminded the year in which they can file a lawsuit to block the annexation is about to expire.

Officials also reported at the Monday night meeting on the township officials' convention which was held last week in Peoria. Five township officials attended the convention.

Trustee Marion Sparks said he has copies of the latest guideline proposals for federal revenue sharing, but no decision has been made on the federal level whether townships will be included in future allocations. He invited the other officials to review the documents he brought back from the convention.

Meet on ramifications of sexual assaults in area

Physical and psychological effects and the social and legal aspects of sexual assault will be discussed Wednesday at a meeting of the Women's Club of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Guest speakers will be Pamela Klein, director of the Rape and Sexual Abuse Care Center at SIUE, and Edwardsville attorney Stephanie Robbins. According to program chairman Dorcie Winter of Edwardsville, the informal meeting will open at 6:30 p.m. with refreshments in the Missouri Room of the University Center.

The meeting is open to SIUE friends, Mrs. Winter said. "We hope that in the discussion following the speeches and 20-minute film, those present will feel free to speak their minds and ask any questions they might have relating to this serious problem.

"According to experts, the key to the rape problem lies in its prevention. Only thorough knowledge and increased community awareness can help achieve that."

TRAILER BURGLARY

Tries to sell gun in office

A man with a gun in his hand walked into the office of a Granite City optometrist at 3 p.m. Thursday and asked the receptionist if anyone wanted to buy the weapon. The woman said the doctor was due in any minute and the man stood holding the weapon, a short barrel revolver, and waving it from side to side.

After a few minutes he suggested the man check back later and he left.

The man was described as about six feet tall, weighing between 210 and 225 pounds, with a stubby beard, grey and black hair and a grey mustache.

Computers now for everyone Rotary told

There is a place for a computer in the home, business, and schools, according to George Baltzell.

Baltzell, who spoke to the Wednesday noon meeting of the Madison-Venice Rotary club, is the director of System Software at Computer Station, No. 12 Crossroads Plaza.

He demonstrated to the Rotarians how the Apple computer can be used in the home for education of both adults and children, entertainment and helping a family with a home budget.

Baltzell pointed out how simple they are to use and can save a household money with accurate records.

In schools computers are being used to speed learning, in particular allowing a teacher to program a special study program for a student. The student can get an instant response from the computer.

He noted that business and industries have for years been using computers, but in the early years of the computers only very large companies could afford them.

Now, however, the price of a personal computer is around $1,000 and many small businesses and individual businessmen are using a personal computer. A demonstration was also given the M-V Rotarians in how the use of graphics can be handled well with the Apple computer.

Like the large corporation the small business can now use the affordable computers for keeping track of accounts, finances in general, inventory control and scheduling of appointments.

It was announced by Rotary President Jack Lee that next week's meeting would be a combination club meeting with reports and the possibility of a return performance of the popular Strange-Wayne Trio.

Astronomy time change

Astronomy viewing sessions at the William G. Shaw Skylab at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will begin an hour earlier on Wednesday nights during the remainder of the fall and winter quarters.

Because of the change back to standard time, the skylab will be open to the public for free, informal viewing each Wednesday from 7 to 9 p.m., weather permitting.

Observers may bring personal equipment or use telescopes, binoculars, photographic equipment, charts and other viewing aids at the Bluff Road site on the campus.

The skylab is named for a former professor of physics at SIUE, who developed the astronomy site. It is sponsored by the department of physics.

During the weekly sessions, star gazers look for constellations they learn to identify and try to find double stars, nebulae or other visible phenomenon in the solar system.

Special sessions are scheduled for meteor showers or seasonal events as they occur.

This month, the skylab will be the site of a "Star Party" on Saturday, Nov. 17, planned by members of the St. Louis Astronomers' Society. The amateurs will be looking for a minor meteor shower, expected at that time and probably visible because of a dark moon.

For added comfort, SIUE will provide a space heater in the skylab, but viewers are being reminded to dress for cold weather.

The Granite City School Board has approved a contract with the Office of Manpower Development in regard to an agreement under the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA).

In this agreement, District 9 refers students to the Manpower who could benefit from after school work experience. In return, the Manpower office will pay the district $6,120.

The money will be divided into accounts that are affected by CETA, such as salaries for administrators, secretaries and counselors.

No higher pay for GC garbage disposal

Granite City will pay no additional fees under its present contract for collection and disposal of garbage, it was decided by City Council members Tuesday night after they were told that SCA Services which handles the city's garbage collection plans to raise rates for use of its landfill by 12 percent.

Alderman Sam Whitmer of the Second Ward and chairman of the council's sanitation committee, said the disposal firm will be informed that the city expects to pay under terms of its present contract.

Alderman Paul Bowler of the Seventh Ward and chairman of the finance committee, said the firm has no legal right to increase the cost of any phase of the garbage collection contract the city now has with the Milam-East Division of SCA Services.

Robert S. Ramey, sales manager of the United Disposal Division of SCA, informed the aldermen that because of increased cost in landfill operations, a 12 percent increase will be made in rates for disposal of garbage and debris.

He said there will be no increase in the cost of hauling and that in instances where rates are increased for landfill use, the customer will be guaranteed there will be no increase in hauling costs over the new 12 months.

City Attorney Lance Callis, in response to a question, confirmed there could be no increase assessed against the city because it has a contract with Milam-East. That contract will expire in July when the city is expected to call for bids for a new three-year contract.

In a related action, Whitmer told the aldermen that he learned that Milam-East is continuing to bill the city $5,000 monthly for use of the landfill to dispose of sludge from the sewage treatment plant.

Whitmer asked Terrance McMillan, new superintendent of the treatment plant, if any sludge was being hauled to the landfill after 5 p.m. McMillan said there has been no hauling since he took over his post Oct. 2.

The city had agreed to pay Milam-East $5,000 per month when it was necessary to dispose of sludge from 5 to 8 p.m., which is after regular hours for operation of the landfill.

Whitmer said he is holding the bills and that a meeting will be held with company officials "to get this straightened out."

First GC Savings' year best of 84; retain board

The annual shareholders meeting of the First Granite City Savings and Loan was held at the office of the Association Monday evening.

Shareholders at the meeting heard the report of the past year's operations, marking the beginning of the 85th year of the company.

"In spite of the economic problems facing the country during the past year, especially in housing, 1979 was the best year in the company's history," officers said.

Directors elected at the shareholders meeting were Fred R. Williams, David G. Knollman, Leonard Fleishman, Paul Niebur, Hughes C. Blake, Dr. Frank Dionea and James P. DeWitt.

Plans were discussed for the coming year concerning improvements at the downtown office building, 1825 Delmar Ave., such as a new sign on the parking lot and a new drive-in unit now under construction, which will open up two lanes for drive-in traffic.

Also reported were plans for further development of the 1529 Johnson Road office.

Immediately after the shareholders meeting, the organizational meeting was held, at which the present officers were re-elected for the new year: Fred R. Williams, president; David G. Knollman, vice president; Nancy Wied, treasurer; and Carol Howard, secretary.

Teacher exchange being considered

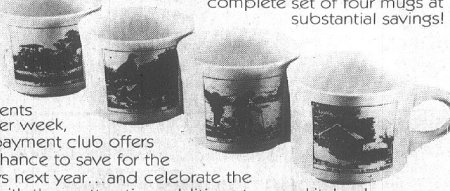

A fourth grade teacher in the Granite City School District has indicated interest in participating in the Exchange Teacher Program directed by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Under this plan, the district would continue to assume the salary of the teacher and the exchange teacher's salary would be paid by the district from which he or she originates.

BERT'S 1910 DELMAR 877-7600

Mrs. Kroteff

cessfully completing hospice volunteer training arrived in the mail at the Kroteff home on Benton Street last week.

Verka's husband, Stephan, has been in poor health for some time and the couple had decided that a trip to the famous mineral baths in Bulgaria might help his condition.

Verka stressed to her family that should anything untoward happen to her while in Bulgaria they should make sure she was brought back to the United States.

Big the vast difference in national policies, customs, red tape and fate have combined to frustrate her sincere request.

The Kroteffs first drove to Racine, Wis., visiting good friends, Ted and Penny Baldukas, for a few days before boarding Swissair for Zurich, Switzerland.

From there, they traveled directly to Sofia, Bulgaria, where the mineral baths are located.

The springs and resort area are now maintained as part of a government operated scientific institute. Those seeking treatment and diagnosis stay in a hospital complex.

For 10 days, Stephan and Verka stayed at the hospital while the former underwent tests and treatment and Verka went sightseeing to some extent.

After the 10 days, the physicians gave the visitors the same diagnostic evaluation of Stephan's condition as his own doctor.

Namely, Stephan should continue a limited exercise program. Stephan was born March 29, 1900, in Dranov, Bulgaria, and had come to this country in 1922.

After the hospital stay, Mr. and Mrs. Kroteff traveled to Pleven and were happy to find two of Stephan's nieces, Yonka and Lubka, and a cousin of Verka's, Sime Goshoff, an attorney.

They stayed with Sime and on Oct. 23, a family dinner party was given in their home.

At 9 a.m. the following day, Oct. 24, Verka complained of some chest pain upon awakening. She walked into the kitchen and collapsed on the floor.

Simo gave her mouth-to-mouth resuscitation and within minutes a doctor was at the house.

Efforts to revive Verka were to no avail and she was pronounced dead.

An autopsy performed Oct. 25 disclosed a condition of extreme arteriosclerosis and a heart attack, according to her daughter, Joy.

The official autopsy report is written in Bulgarian, but has an English translation attached.

Verka's sudden death left Stephan virtually helpless. He is a semi-invalid and, due to touches of arthritis in his hands, the couple's travelers checks were written in Verka's name.

Stephan had a total of $7 in his pocket. Cousin Sime agreed to take care of expenses involved in the burial of Verka, as Bulgarian law requires this to take place within 40 hours of death.

There was no choice but for Stephan to leave his wife in Pleven. The cousins quickly packed the suitcases and Stephan was taken to Zurich and left by plane Oct. 26, accompanied by Miss Buckman, a nurse provided by Swissair.

He arrived in New York the following day, Oct. 27.

Verka's family here had been concerned for some time, as no one had heard from the couple and she was known as a prolific letter writer.

A postcard was then received by Verka's brother, Dragie P. Goshoff of Miami, Fla.; it recorded a negative reaction to conditions in Bulgaria.

An emergency telephone number inside Verka's passport listed Dragie's name and Swissair had tried to contact him with details about Stephan's return home.

But Dragie Goshoff and his wife were visiting friends in California, not far from Joy's home, and she learned about her mother's death Oct. 29 in a roundabout way.

Communications apparently were dismal in notifying the family of the sad news.

An American Embassy official in Sofia was apologetic when contacted by the daughter Oct. 29. He reported a telegram had been sent to the family.

Crowd hails

He thanked everyone involved with the season. But his most ardent praise was saved, appropriately, for his players.

"Last night, in the final game, these kids won not on sheer ability, but on personal desire and incentive. For that game, they just how much pride they have. Pride in this town, pride in this school, pride in this soccer program, but most of all, pride in themselves."

Baker introduced each player individually. The seniors, he invited to address the reception.

Don Stucke, president of the Granite City School Board, and Superintendent of Schools B. J. Davis added their thanks and heaped on more superlatives.

The South band played. The ovations mounted. The bows were taken.

It was Warrior assistant coach Mel Bunting who summarized the tournament: "I heard people there saying things to the effect, 'We're not going to let the Granite City people come up

The telegram eventually arrived Nov. 2. Word of the death appeared in the Nov. 1 Press-Record.

Stephan Kroteff was picked up in New York by Ted and Penny Baldukas and taken to Racine, Wis., and Joy joined her father there, driving him back to Granite City last week.

Bulgarian law states that a body may not be exhumed for eight years.

Verka Kroteff's stated wish should anything happen to her while she was in Europe—that she be returned to this country—is unfulfilled.

"It is not as though she is alone over there," Joy said last week. "But I will make every effort to try to fulfill her wishes," she added.

Until such time as this can be arranged, it has been suggested that a bronze plaque be placed on the family grave in Sunset Hill Cemetery, inscribed with Verka Kroteff's birth and death dates and the words, "Buried in Pleven."

Persons wishing to recognize Verka's role in this community may perpetuate her memory in either of two ways.

Over the years, she had contributed volumes of books in the field of travel, theater, drama and music to the Granite City Public Library in the name of individuals.

This practice could be continued in Verka's name; her daughter suggests: Those wishing to do so may contact the library for assistance in selecting appropriate books.

Verka and her daughter, Joy, also had established a scholarship fund some time ago at the West Valley Community College, 14,000 Fruitvale Ave., Saratoga, Calif. 95070, where Joy's husband, Robert Brydon, has served four terms as president of the board of trustees.

Donations may be sent in Verka's memory to the scholarship fund, marked to the attention of the superintendent. It is also suggested.

Verka Kroteff is buried in Pleven, Bulgaria, but her spirit, her patriotism and her love of this country remain here in Granite City, Illinois, United States of America.

John and Mary Schaffner, representing the Ill-Mo Submariners of World War II and Auxiliary, placed a memorial wreath.

Also among those present were Mrs. Lily Chaboude, president of the Granite City Society for Crippled Children, and Mrs. Emylee Alford, representing the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club.

colleagues in the Illinois Senate for "exercising fiscal control and yet providing tax relief in adopting the 20 percent reduction in the sales tax on food and drugs."

"We have acted responsibly and within the state's ability to provide tax relief during a time when the economic future of the state and the nation is in doubt," the senator added.

"I applaud those who have stood with Gov. Thompson, Senate President Philip J. Rock and others who believe that we should not be committing the state at this time to future revenue cuts that we perhaps cannot afford."

He said he voted for the 20 percent sales tax reduction on food and medicine for these reasons:

"This plan provides tax relief beginning Jan. 1, 1980. To support the alternate proposal would have meant stalling the implementation of tax relief for six months."

"My chief concern was to give the people sales tax relief as soon as possible. The proposed amendment to House Bill 2796, while it was a popular amendment, did not afford immediate tax relief."

"To support the more expensive proposal for sales tax relief would have meant a cutback of $10 million badly needed revenues in the state's road program — a cutback that would seriously impair transportation improvements in the 56th District.

"As things stand right now, I would not at all be surprised if the people of this state see the sales tax reduced by two cents by the end of 1980. And when it is, the taxpayer public will have relief, not rhetoric."

Valdabene further pledged to support "any reasonable tax reduction program" that is introduced in the General Assembly next spring.

"I am dedicated to providing tax relief for the residents of the 56th District, but not at the risk of having to raise other taxes later to pay for that relief," he said.

"We have taken the wise and prudent course that is in the best interest of all of the people of Illinois."

Disagreeing with the senator's viewpoint, State Rep. Sam W. Wolf (D, Granite City) said Gov. Thompson "scuttled the only real tax relief legislation to work its way through both houses. In its place, he has substituted a 'penny and a promise' token bill which accomplishes little."

A compromise amendment that would have removed four cents of the five-cent tax, the state portion, and left a one-cent tax for the benefit of county and municipal governments was defeated through the efforts of the governor.

"When the original legislation providing for a full phase-out of the tax was passed by the legislature, the governor could have exercised his amendatory powers to reduce the impact of the bill."

"However, he chose at that time to veto the entire bill. It was only when it appeared that the General Assembly would override his veto that he proposed an alternative plan," Wolf said. "It is an alternative plan that leaves a lot to be desired."

"It would appear that the governor failed to follow through with his promise of a year ago when he told the people of Illinois there would be meaningful tax relief."

"The state treasury at the present time has over $550 million in surplus funds and this is increasing every month."

"Tax relief in this area would have been of particular benefit to the elderly, people on fixed incomes, and those in the lower income brackets."

"This money which could have been used to purchase other needed items that they cannot now afford."

"Perhaps in the spring session, which will start in January, the governor will receive the message in a more forceful manner," Wolf concluded.

Auto testing

New Jersey has had a mandatory program since 1974. Portland, Ore., has had a program since 1975, and Phoenix and Tucson, Ariz., since 1977.

Los Angeles, Nevada and Rhode Island started mandatory programs in the past year.

The responsibility for designing and administering the inspection and maintenance program has been delegated to the state by the federal Clean Air Act.

The Illinois EPA has finished a study of the alternative methods of running a testing program and has presented the results to the Special House-Senate Joint Committee on Inspection-Maintenance for its consideration.

After the public hearing in Chicago, the Joint Committee plans to hold hearing in the following areas:

Nov. 30, 1979 — Wheaton (a.m.).
Nov. 30, 1979 — Joliet (p.m.).
Jan. 7, 1980 — Waukegan.
Jan. 11, 1980 — East St. Louis.

used to repay the remaining tax warrants in the Educational Fund, it was explained.

A sum of money lost through tax objections will further decrease the amount of funds available to the district.

Efforts are continuing to secure additional anticipation warrants, but no word has yet been received whether such money would be available, Vickers said.

"It appears we'll be out of funds in the middle of February and will have to shut down or people will have to work for nothing—unless some other remedy can be found," the administrator said.

as he crossed the gym floor to take his place beside his players.

That was enough to send the assembly to its feet—just the sight of the leader of this team. It was the first of many standing ovations the Warriors would receive from the admiring crowd.

South Principal James Dumont received one when he opened the reception, saying, "I told you last year that we did it again. Well, I'm going to tell you the same thing this year. We did it again."

"I'm proud to present the 1979 Illinois state soccer champions and the 1979, 1978, 1977 and 1976 state soccer champion coach, Gene Baker."

It was a day for ovations. For Baker, for the players, for the cheerleaders, for the statisticians, the reception audience made its devotion and appreciation loud and clear.

Baker's comments were slow-paced. He made an effort to acknowledge as many groups and individuals as time and memory would allow.

Colonial bank to add drive-up lanes

Donald E. Van Horn, president of Colonial Bank of Granite City, is announcing a planned expansion of the bank's drive-up facilities. The expansion will consist of two additional Diebold drive-up systems matching the systems presently in service.

Van Horn noted that a special feature is being incorporated. One unit will be raised approximately eight inches to accommodate pick-up trucks and vans.

The expansion is expected to be completed by March 15, weather permitting. The contract for the expansion was awarded to Ed Moore Construction Co.

"Colonial Bank of Granite City opened for business in June 1976, and has experienced an exceptional growth rate since then. The current bank assets are $10 million, Van Horn said.

"We want to express our sincere appreciation to the many thousands of depositors who have made the expansion possible. Colonial Bank has pledged to give the most modern and efficient service available to its customers, while retaining an old-fashioned, warm, friendly atmosphere," he added.

Colonial Bank is conducting an Airway luggage promotion whereby customers can receive a piece of luggage free, or at a substantially reduced price, when making a qualifying deposit to a new account or adding to an existing savings account, Van Horn said. The luggage program will be for a limited time only, and persons wishing to take advantage of this offer should stop by the bank at their earliest convenience, he noted.

No conflict of interest exists in having the wife of the president of the Granite City Board of Education employed as an attendance clerk for a school in the district, the school board has been informed.

Assistant State's Attorney Michael Thompson issued his opinion in a letter to Harold Briggs, regional superintendent of schools, which stated, "this situation does not constitute a conflict of interest."

Board member David Thompson said in the letter. Board member David Partney had contended that having Stucke's wife employed by the school district and having her husband vote to approve the payroll could constitute a conflict, since Stucke was, in effect, voting to bring money into his household.

The courts have ruled in several cases that a husband and wife's income are separate. In other business, the board voted to make obsolete reading textbooks available to the public before selling them to a company which has offered to buy them at 25 cents and up each.

About 4,000 to 6,000 used textbooks from the 1971 and 1974 Houghton-Mifflin Reading Series are considered surplus. The Wilcox-Follett Co. has proposed to sort, package and ship the books for the district and will pay for each book depending on condition.

Board Member Dewey Melton recommended that flyers be sent to the public through the schools, informing parents that the obsolete books are available, at minimum cost, through the schools. Books not purchased by parents then will be sold to Wilcox-Follett, the board agreed.

Purchases approved by the school board included $8,704 worth of framing lumber for the house students in the building trades program are constructing. Selected on the basis of low bid to specifications for the lumber were O'Neil Lumber for $4,684 worth, Great Central Lumber, $2,968, and D-I-Y Lumber, $1,051.

A total of $7,462 in canned goods was purchased from four bidders. Contracts were to AAA Produce for $2,804, Allen Foods, $1,130, Isis Foods, $2,135, and M.J. Kellner, $1,391.

Two firms were selected from among six bidders to supply paper napkins, plastic goods and other items for all school cafeterias. M.J. Kellner received a contract for $1,610 and Modern Papers for $3,460. The Rayner Co. center, University selected for magazine subscription services for the district's libraries at a total cost of $5,196. It was the lowest of four bids received.

Chuck Merkel, Piano Tuning was selected to tune the district's 50 to 60 pianos at a cost of $14.95 each, the lowest of two bids received.

The board also agreed to purchase 500 self-carboned forms for nurses, psychologists, social workers and others for case studies of the students at a total cost of $275, the lowest of three firms bidding for the printing work.

Alltype Fire Extinguisher Co., Fire Safety-Sales and Service and Pyrene Fire Protection Co. were selected as sources of supply for fire extinguishers and service to the district on the basis of low bids to specifications on several types of extinguishers.

Four special purchases were approved on items not easily bid. The National Study of School Evaluation received a contract for $340 to supply standard forms which will be used for a self-evaluation of Granite City High School North teachers and programs. The self-evaluation is in preparation for the North Central Association evaluation to be held in the 1980-81 school year.

Sears, Roebuck & Co. was selected to supply a washing machine for the home economics department at Grigsby Junior High School for $219. Due to an inability to obtain bids on appliances in the past, a telephone survey of six suppliers was made for the washing machine and Sears quoted the lowest price, the board was told. The machine replaces a 13-year-old machine, which would have cost $190 to repair.

Redman's Awards was selected to provide 100 senior recognition plaques at a total of $250 and additional letters, numbers and stripes for $30. The firm was selected because the district had a credit with the company, due to a printing error on previous plaques purchased. It also was agreed to purchase seven automatic coin sorters for use in cafeterias. Tully Heubner, director of business affairs for the district, said he felt the purchase would reduce the loss due to counting errors and would save a great deal of time cafeteria personnel and others spend counting change. The sorters will be purchased from Nadox Co. at a total cost of $359. Three emergency expenditures in excess of $150 were approved for payment. Authorized Refrigeration Parts Co. received $212 for repairs to the air conditioner in the South auditorium; National Auto Supply received $226 for welding tanks needed by the maintenance department, and American Boiler Services, Inc., was given $257 for replacing a tube in the Maryville School boiler which was leaking.

Routine bills approved for payment totaled $63,381 from the educational fund, $1,768 from the tuition reimbursement fund, $29,422 from the building fund, $12,470 from the transportation fund, $4,944 from the joint agreement fund, and $1,603 from federal funds.

Semifinals

South removes doubt

By PETE HAYES
PALATINE — If there were any feelings that Granite City South's 2-0 prep soccer win early in the season over Hinckley-Big Rock was a fluke in the minds of its fans, the Warriors erased those doubts here Saturday by whipping Hinckley by the same score on two goals by Phil Beljanski in the semifinals of the IHSAA State Soccer Tournament at Palatine High School.

On a field left frozen, sloppy and slippery by the previous day's quarterfinals and rainfall and snow, South still managed to control the ball about 80 percent of the time against the Royals. The win advanced South to the state championship game Saturday night against New Trier East, 3-0 semifinal victor over Chicago Bowen.

Hinckley had been the Cinderella team of the tourney, with a school enrollment of only 320, the Royals came into the meet with a 27-41 record and a streak of winning 24 out of its last 25 games. That streak began six weeks ago after a team trip to Southern Illinois that saw Hinckley loose not only to South but also to Cahokia (1-0) and Belleville West (2-2).

To say South dominated the game would be an understatement. The Warriors outshot Hinckley 33-2. Did getting that many shots and still managing to score only two goals bother South coach Greg Baker? "No really," he said. "There were some little things today we didn't do right. Ball on the wrong side of the foot, turning the wrong way on throw-ins, that sort of thing."

Actually, the score wouldn't have been so close, if not for the antics of Big Rock goalie Ron Reinert. The 5-10, 150-pound senior, while allowing two goals, did manage to make some outstanding saves and keep his team in the game. "Their goalie had an outstanding game," said Baker. "He did a job that probably inspired them."

South's first goal came when Beljanski pounced on a rebound after Reinert had stopped a shot by David Fernandez at 6:17.

In the fourth period, Beljanski got South's second goal. With 15:04 remaining, driving the ball into Hinckley's hopes of a comeback. Taking a pass from Tinsley, he fired a shot directly in front of the goal from about 15 yards away. It rolled along the ground into the net.

The sloppy turf didn't hamper South's ability to pass the ball. The Warriors dazzled Hinckley.

In the day's other semifinal, New Trier East scored one goal in the first quarter and two more in the third to down Bowen 3-0. Greg Rossiter got the Indians' first goal with 18:42 left in the first period. The second was scored by John Narquardt with 15:57 remaining in the third. The third was scored by Rich Thompson with 8:57 left.

The Sporting Thing

By PETE HAYES

OK, go ahead. Hold your old state soccer tournament at the North Pole, we don't care. We'll go as far as we have to. It makes a lot of sense to hold the tourney in Chicago in mid-November. I mean, the weather there is so nice that time of year.

You see, people in Southern Illinois particularly in Granite City, don't care what you do to try and take the state championship game, but how you have tried. The facilities at Palatine High school were just wonderful. Nothing like the shabby accommodations at Illinois State or Northern Illinois U. The press box was so spacious. I'd say there was maybe enough room for 10 people there. That wasn't counting the countless coaches and IHSAA big wheels who free-loaded up there with no press credentials. It was called a press-box. But the only people sitting down were IHSAA people. There wasn't enough room to breathe in there.

The field was in such great shape to—that is, before the first game. But by the time the first quarter of the first quarter match was over, it was horrible. And it got worse. The snow and the rain didn't help. I know your reasoning for keeping the meet up north is because more schools up there play soccer. But it's obvious that the number of soccer fans in Southern Illinois outnumber your fans two to one. Even though they had the farthest travel, the fans from Granite City were in much more abundance than those from Chicago.

Keep moving the tournament northward, we don't care. Move it to Green Bay. Move it to Minneapolis. We'll go there and win it.

Your bias is obvious. In fact, one of the IHSAA free-loaders in the "press" box made it clear he was rooting for ANYONE but a Southern Illinois team. Before Granite City's quarterfinal game, he said, "People are talking as if Granite City has the game already won. They might be surprised." Granite City won that game 7-0. Late in that game, he said, "Oh, come on, give US a goal." When a Granite City player slid about ten yards on the muddy turf and ran into the opposing goalie, this guy muttered something about throwing that bum out of the game and what a real soccer player would have done. He wouldn't know a real soccer player if he came up and smacked him in his large nose.

Go ahead, keep your old tournament. Somebody from down here will go up there and win it every year.

Go ahead, move your tourney to the moon. We don't care. If just sticks in your craw any time a school from Southern Illinois wins the state title in any sport. But when Southern Illinois dominates a tournament for four years, it has to have you guys in fits. It must make you want to bend over backward to satisfy the big-money schools up there.

Go ahead, keep your old tournament. We don't care.

Your pal,
Pete

Quarterfinals

Record-tying performance

By PETE HAYES

PALATINE — In a record-tying performance, the Granite City South soccer team won its quarterfinal round game here Friday night against Wheaton Central 7-0 in the IHSAA State Soccer Finals at Palatine High School in a game played in a steady rain that turned to snow. The temperature hovered around 30 degrees.

The seven goals scored by South tied the record set two hours earlier by Hinckley Big-Rock in its 7-1 win over Niles North. Ironically, the record Hinckley had broken was set by South in the 1977 title match when it beat Chicago Schurz 6-1.

The issue was never in doubt against Wheaton. Jack Burnett got the scoring started when he made good on a penalty kick with 12:12 left in the first quarter. The scoring was topped off with 5:06 left in the third period when Tim Dix scored from the middle of the penalty area off a corner kick by teammate Greg White. In between those two scores, it was all South. In the fourth quarter, South coach Gene Baker substituted freely. South outshot Wheaton 29-7. One of the main problems for Baker going in was how to control Wheaton's superb 6-5 striker Tim Janeway, author of 32 goals during the regular season, mainly on head balls. Janeway managed to get off four of his team's shots, but none were of the type South goalie Tony Pierce had to worry about.

"We had (David) James fronting him (Janeway) and also used (Jim) Brewer and (Jack) Burnett on him," said Baker. "I think we neutralized him."

South really didn't have to worry much. The Wheaton offense because its own was in total command. After Burnett's score, Randy DeRousse spotted Warrior Jeff Tinsley streaking along the right sideline and hit him with a lead-pass about midfield. Tinsley beat the Wheaton defense and went in all alone on Tiger goalie Al Crothers and beat him into the far corner of the net with a shot with 1:15 remaining in the first period. Tinsley was able to get loose for the same type of scoring opportunity three more times in the first half, but the Wheaton defense caught up with him each time. "That's the sort of thing we've been working on this week," said Baker. "The narrow field (62 yards) helps

Put your house on an energy diet

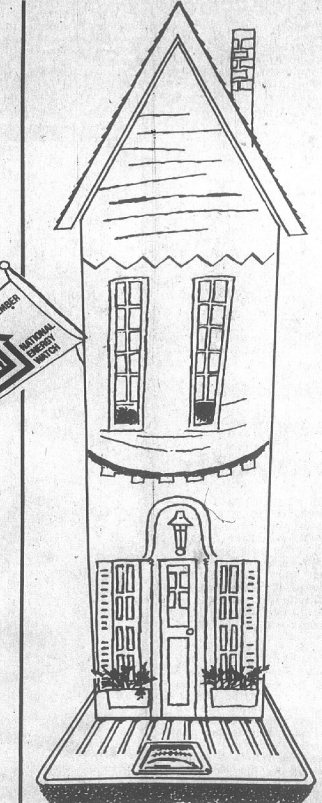

A house that guzzles energy is probably not as comfortable as one that operates on a slim intake of kilowatts and therms.

The N.E.W. decal is awarded to homes that have shaped up to use energy wisely. The National Energy Watch standards include (1) insulation that meets today's requirements, (2) weather-proofing with storm doors and windows, weatherstripping and caulking, (3) using the heating system and appliances efficiently.

So when you put your house on an energy diet, you're going to get more comfort and efficiency from less fuel.

You'll see the N.E.W. decal on many of your neighbor's homes. It's the symbol of a home that's worth more because it conserves energy. We'll help you put your home on a year-round energy diet and earn the N.E.W. award. See or call our Energy Use Advisor.

ST. LOUIS — Reed Horton of Granite City, an 18-year-old freshman at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, bowled a perfect game Saturday for the SIUE bowling squad, at the Olivette Lanes in St. Louis.

The game was sanctioned by the American Bowling Congress, and Horton's feat was the first "900" game rolled this year in intercollegiate bowling in the nation, according to SIUE Coach Foster Schneider. St. Louis University was the Cougars' opponent at the time of Horton's accomplishment.

DON'T GET SWINDLED!

Someday while out shopping, a friendly stranger makes your acquaintance and shows you a bundle of cash he has just "found". He would like to divide it with you, but first, to show your "good faith" you must put up a substantial amount of your own funds which you must withdraw from savings. In the process of counting and handling your money, the stranger excuses himself for a moment and you are left holding a package of worthless paper.

This confidence game or some variation is being used all over the country with much success. If a stranger asks you to withdraw your savings on any pretense, notify the police or your financial institution immediately. The money you save may be your own.

feet out after taking a pass from David James.
 "David did a tremendous job," said Baker. "He was playing in such pain. It took a lot of courage."
 The winning goal was scored by Burnett with 12:12 left in the game. He took a throw in from Craig Kessler just inside the area and headed the ball into the upper left corner of the goal. Kessler had been South's "designated throw-in" throughout the tournament, coming into the lineup almost exclusively for throw-ins near the opposing goal. But bench officials Saturday night ruled that he had to go back to the scorer's table and report immediately prior to going on the field. "It was not just make a motion to the scorer from where he was standing. Therefore, it made it harder for him to get into the game in time."

 "We had some difficulty in that area," said Baker. "But we got to use Craig on the throw-in in that situation one time and you saw what happened."
 The insurance goal was scored by Jeff Tinsley on a six-yard shot from the left side of New Trier goalie Kyle Leonard. James Brewer got the assist.
 Do the championships get any sweeter? "This one is the sweetest in many ways," said Baker. "This was supposed to be a rebuilding year for us. We had some hardships (the injuries) early but stayed together and came back at tournament time."

Records set in state soccer

PALATINE — The 1979 Illinois High School Association State Soccer Tournament was a record-breaking one. In all, 20 records were broken or tied during the meet.
 South broke its own record for most goals in a tournament by scoring 12. The old mark was 10 set by the 1977 champs. Hinkley-Big Rock broke South's record of most goals in a single game (6) when it pounded Niles North 7-1 in the quarterfinals. Hinkley held the record alone for about three hours. The next game, South beat Wheaton Central 7-0. South tied the mark for allowing the fewest shots to be taken against a team with 21. South allowed 21 in 1977. South broke New Trier West's 1974 record for the most corner kicks with 27. The old mark was 21. Hinkley-Big Rock and Niles North combined to set a record for most goals in one game by two teams in their quarterfinal game. South and Chicago Schurz held the old mark in South's 6-1 title match win in 1977.

 The attendance for the four-session tournament was a record. In all, 7,439 people saw the tournament, easily breaking the old record of 4,735 set at Huskie Stadium at Northern Illinois U. in 1977. The Friday afternoon session drew 2,097 fans to set a new mark. The championship match drew 1,863 to set a new record.
 Of course, many of the records broken by South were those held by the Warriors for most state championships, most appearances, most consecutive titles and by South coach Gene Baker for most titles, most consecutive titles, most times coached in title match, most times coached in state tournament and most games won in state tournament.

Prep football playoffs

Crusaders whip Richwoods

BELLEVIEWE — Gateway Conference champion Belleville Althoff stunned the Illinois sports world here Saturday afternoon by walloping number two-ranked Peoria Richwoods 33-7 to advance to the semifinals of the Illinois Class 4A football playoffs. The Crusaders had little trouble. Fullback Don Schaefer scored three touchdowns to lead the rout.

Althoff jumped out to a 13-0 lead at the end of the first quarter and led 19-0 at halftime. The Crusaders' first touchdown came on Schaefer's one-yard pass reception from quarterback Matt Hardin. Mike Laney ran in the ball from three yards for the second score. Schaefer's last two scores were in the third quarter on runs of one and three yards. In the first touchdown drive for Althoff, the key play was a 14 yard pass reception by Dave Rissler.

"Scoring first really helped us," said Althoff coach Glen Scott. "It was just a matter of being mentally prepared. Both teams had played Wednesday in preliminary games. That gives you only two days to get up again after an emotional peak."

Getting out in front gave us a good advantage." The victory means that Althoff (8-3) will meet LaSalle-Peru Saturday, Nov. 17. LaSalle-Peru (11-0) advanced with a 22-14 win over Rich Central. The winner of that game will face the winner of the Antioch-Wheaton North game Nov. 24 in the state championship game at Hancock Stadium at Illinois State U.

Flyers crush No. 1 Richards

EAST ST. LOUIS — Powerful East St. Louis showed the polsters a thing or two here Saturday. The Flyers ripped number-one ranked Oak Lawn Richards 38-6 in the semifinals of the Illinois State Class 5A high school football playoffs at Parsons Field.

The Flyers, who had been ranked in the top five in the state most of the season, dropped out of the top ten last week. But the polls obviously didn't make any difference. The Flyer offense ran rampant on the Richards defense. East Side ran the ball 46 times for 267 yards and completed nine passes for 165 yards.

East St. Louis (11-0) will host Elgin Larkin (11-0) next Saturday in the 5A semifinals.

Marshall 21, Assumption 14. MARSHALL — The East St. Louis Assumption Flyers, unbeaten champions of the Quad County Conference, saw their Illinois Class 2A prep football playoff hopes come to a stunning end here Saturday when they lost to ranked Marshall 21-14. Marshall, also undefeated, got on the scoreboard first on a 30-yard run by fullback KJohn Adams. Assumption's first score came when Bobby Johnson recovered a Marshall fumble in the end zone for a touchdown. Marshall came back to take a 14-7 lead Candlelight illuminated the sanctuary of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church as Miss Karen Alberta Wiese and Stanley Charles Myers exchanged wedding vows Oct. 13.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wiese, 219 Briarcliff. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Myers, 2419 Grand Ave., are the parents of the groom.

The Rev. Louis Frick performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with flower arrangements and urns of palms.

Musical selections for the ceremony included "Hallelujah," "You Light Up My Life," "Time in a Bottle," "Evergreen," "Sunrise, Sunset," "The Wedding Song" and "We've Only Just Begun."

Satin ribbon edged with Venice lace encircled the waistline. The bouffant skirt featured scalloped tiers banded with cluny lace extending into a full sweep chapel train.

She wore a matching picture hat trimmed with tulle veiling. Her cascade bouquet consisted of silk red and white roses, baby breath and greenery with white streamers and lace.

Maid of honor was Sharon Nelson. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Ed Fife and Mrs. Kip Pomeroy, sisters of the groom, and Mrs. Richard Hensley.

They were identically styled gowns of ocean blue dotted silesta knit designed with open elastic necklines.

The elbow length sleeves had self ties. Each carried a colonial bouquet of blue silk roses, baby breath and lace streamers. They wore blue flowers and baby breath in their hair.

Optimists hear program on alcohol

Venice rail crossing at Market-State to close for repairs

Venice Mayor Tyrone Echols announced at the Venice City Council meeting last week that the Market and State Street railroad crossing will be closed for repairs.

The three day closing will take place on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Nov. 19, 20 and 21.

"The railroad people have told me they will need to close for the three days as they are going to do a thorough job on the crossing," Echols said.

A $1,000 medical bill of a former Venice employee led to a discussion of the city taking out workmen's compensation insurance rather than being self-insured.

Mayor Echols asked the insurance committee to study the costs.

The council approved payment of $35,000 to J. S. Alberici Construction for repairs to the girders and support structure of the McKinley bridge.

A building permit was granted James Mosby who intends to add a room to his home at 1126 College St., Venice, at a cost of $5,800.

Mayor Echols announced a Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Area Planning Commission meeting will be held in Belleville on Wednesday, Nov. 28. Mayor Echols said the topic would be cable television and asked as many council members as possible to attend.

The council authorized the purchase of a new radar gun in the amount of $910 from federal revenue sharing funds.

The current radar gun was bought used and would cost too much to repair, according to Chief of Police Farris Smith.

The council felt that a crackdown was needed on Broadway speeders.

A question was raised about small children seen playing around the toll booths at the McKinley bridge. Bridge Manager Thomas Fields was instructed to have the toll takers call the police when the children came around, so the police may speak to the parents.

The council approved payment of a $4,000 demolition bill to the Luster Construction Company after J. D. Sands, building inspector for the city, inspected the site.

Board right in granting access for campus presidents

Chancellor Kenneth A. Shaw always seems able to say, and do the right things regarding Southern Illinois University, but he isn't going to occupy the key SIU administrative position forever, as he would be the first to admit. It is highly proper that Acting SIUE President Earl Lazerson spoke out at Thursday's meeting and persuaded the Board of Trustees to guarantee the two presidents the right to name additional agenda topics if they see fit to do so.

Guidelines to "establish the spirit and define the practices" of the Office of Chancellor of the SIU System were presented to the board here Thursday by the holder of the relatively new top post of chancellor. The guidelines were adopted by the board after being amended.

The working paper called for any disagreements between the chancellor and campus presidents—over whether a matter could go on the agenda for board consideration—to be reviewed by the chancellor and board officers.

As SIU at Edwardsville Vice President and Provost Lazerson pointed out, this might deny a president access to the full board, and might give chancellor pocket-power over an issue.

It will be recalled that the establishment of the chancellor position Feb. 8 created the danger of downgrading the SIUE and SIU at Carbondale campuses in terms of their previous autonomy, and was adopted by the board without any visible groundswell of public or campus support for the action.

In promoting Dr. Shaw from the SIUE presidency, the trustees selected a highly capable individual, but there is still considerable concern over the multiplicity of layers of authority and governance.

Acting Pres. Lazerson was right in raising the point of board access, and we hope nobody holds it against him.

President here since January 1977, Dr. Shaw assumed the duties of chancellor Sept. 15, having been selected by the board after a nationwide search.

As chief executive officer of the system, which includes two principal universities as well as medical, dental and law schools, he has the responsibility for developing system goals, policies, administrative structures and operating procedures in academic and financial affairs, general administration, external relations and legal matters.

The board said it formulated the new job to achieve "more effective decision-making on the system level and to achieve more efficient functioning of the board to allow a single voice to speak externally for the system, particularly to the governor, legislature and Illinois Board of Higher Education; to minimize internal conflict between executive officers by clearly defining roles and responsibilities; and to make possible the best use of resources available to the system."

Dr. Shaw emphasized Thursday that the guidelines "do not attempt to make both universities the same, do not require lockstep action of any kind from anyone, and do not impose nor envision loss of academic and operational autonomy for the two universities." The guidelines assert:

1. The chancellor is the official channel of communication to the board for all system and campus elements, except for staff designated by the board as having specific board-assigned responsibilities.

2. Board members, through the chairman or by board consensus, may place an item on the agenda; otherwise, the chancellor establishes the agenda; matters judged imperative for board consideration by a president but which the chancellor does not wish to recommend to the board will be appealed by the president to the board chairman, who will report his decision at the next board meeting for acceptance or rejection.

3. The chancellor will provide staff support for other board activities, in addition to board meetings.

4. Board concerns regarding campus activities or problems will be channeled through the Office of the Chancellor, which will then channel such concerns to the president. Presidential responses to such queries will be channeled to the board through the chancellor.

5. Presidential reporting to the board will be through the chancellor or, with chancellor concurrence, directly to the board. The chancellor will originate a board newsletter, issued monthly.

6. Regular meetings between the chancellor and presidents will be scheduled.

7. Coordination of interests and involvements in matters which are campus responsibility but must undergo review for system functions will be accomplished basically by the chancellor's staff in liaison with the president's staff. Line authority can be exerted except through the chancellor-president relationship.

8. System coordination will deal not only with individual campuses but with coordination between campuses, including study and development of intercampus relations as they may provide educational or research use benefits to the overall university.

9. A legislative activity and liaison function will be organized by the chancellor to coordinate with his office and personnel from the two campuses.

10. Alumni organizations and activities are campus oriented. Any involvement the chancellor's office may wish with such group will be coordinated with the president of the respective campus.

Warriors state soccer champions fourth year in row

"The difficult we do right away. The impossible takes us a little longer."

That could well be the motto of the soccer Warriors of Granite City High School. They have just accomplished what seemed an impossible feat, a fourth consecutive Illinois High School Association soccer championship.

It is rare that schools attain statewide team championships because there are so many hundred high schools in this populous state.

To put a lock on the Illinois title in a specific sport for such a long span of time is not unprecedented; Carmi golfers, for example, own a long streak. But it is a highly unusual attainment, particularly for a sport emphasizing teamwork as well as individual skills. What has been accomplished by the local soccer athletes may never be duplicated again (unless the Granite Cityans do it themselves).

The names and faces have gradually changed over the years, but the same determination and physical conditioning and resourcefulness have been present. The Warriors each fall generate awesome offensive and defensive prowess by tournament time, even in "rebuilding years."

Along with the students themselves and their coaches, credit is due a longer list of people than could be mentioned here. But that list certainly includes Ruben Mendoza, who inspired the establishment of the youth soccer leagues here years ago, and those who have helped continue such programs.

College athletes are receiving excellent instruction and leadership in the schools, and also benefit immensely from their earlier soccer field exploits. Just as some Collegeville youngsters are given basketballs to bounce almost before they can walk, many Granite City tots are getting an early opportunity to kick and control and head and pass soccerballs.

Granite City Community High School won the first Illinois high school soccer title, and now a Granite City team has captured it in five of the eight years—even though the northern part of the state also plays a lot of soccer and usually sends seven of the eight state final tournament teams. South also owns a third-place state finish, and North advanced far in the statewide competition one year.

The adept, agile and fast-thinking soccer players from Granite City have done much to put their community "on the map" statewide and throughout the Midwest. And we won't be at all surprised if they continue doing the same thing, long into the future.

Venice board, faculty agree

By VALERIE EVENDEN
of the Press-Record

The Venice Board of Education and Venice Teachers Local 505 have reached agreement in their contract negotiations, calling for increases amounting to 10 percent to 18.8 percent in the new one-year contract.

Local 965 members, headed by union negotiators Marianne Hays, president, and Calvin Butts, negotiating committee chairman, met Thursday and agreed to the latest proposal offered by the board, according to Robert N. Vickers, Venice superintendent of Schools.

Approval by the board and union so far is verbal, but formal ratification is expected this week.

Negotiations have been continuing since late August. The previous contract expired June 30.

Vickers said cost of the new contract to the Venice School District is 5.5 percent above the former agreement.

Increases were granted according to years of service, academic degrees and credit hours accumulated.

First year teachers with a bachelor's degree will receive $10,200, up $400 from $9,800. Teachers with bachelor's degrees and 13 years of seniority will receive $17,370, up $1,233 from $16,137.

Salaries for first year teachers with a bachelor's degree and 16 credit hours will increase from $10,075 to $10,475, while those in the top level of seniority will receive $17,585 from $16,350, a difference of $1,232.

Teachers with master's degrees in the first year will earn $11,000, up from $10,580, with those in the highest level receiving $18,370, an increase of $1,508 from $16,862.

First year teachers with master's degrees, plus 16 credit hours, will earn $11,200 under the new contract, up $340 from $10,860.

Those in the top level will receive $18,585, or $1,510 more than the previous $17,075 salary.

A limit on payment for accumulated sick leave days over seven was agreed to in the new contract, Vickers advised.

A maximum of 225 sick leave days now may be accumulated, with pay granted to 50 percent of the total after 10 years of service.

The previous contract allowed for the accumulation of an unlimited number of sick leave days, the administrator said.

He told police he was northbound on Nameoki Road when the truck struck the median north of Garfield Avenue and Kopechius was thrown to the floorboard.

The truck crossed the median at Richmond Avenue, continued north in the southbound lanes and went over the curb into a used car lot, striking two parked cars and pushing one into a third parked car on the lot, police said.

Police said 30 minutes earlier Miranda was called to "keep down the music" and had promised to do so after an initial complaint was received.

An officer reported hearing loud music from the lounge while standing on the front porch of Hance Bailey, 1529 Clark Ave., at about a second call was reported and Bailey signed a formal complaint.

Tough-minded leadership needed

To the Editor:

It's time for common sense. Deport radical Iranians; free our people in Iran. Immediately by whatever means necessary.

Deregulate the oil industry so expanded exploration and drilling will benefit us. Higher prices may give some of us more incentive to conserve.

Veto the weak SALT II treaty and renegotiate a treaty favorable to us; and let's get rid of our spineless, liberal-leaning administration in Washington and replace it with tough-minded leadership in the 1980 election.

I firmly believe that if either Carter or Kennedy is elected next November, we will fall deeper into domestic and international troubled waters.

It's time for leadership. It's time for common sense. The present administration has neither.

It is "difficult to say" whether a two-month extension granted to the Tri-City Regional Port to secure financing for a warehouse in the Foreign Trade Zone was an adequate amount of time, George Andres, port development manager, commented.

A $600,000 grant approved by the Department of Housing and Urban Development, including $400,000 for security and other FTZ improvements may be lost if the port district is unable to comply with its part of the grant agreement—arranging financing the warehouse for the Foreign Trade Zone.

The Tri-City Industrial Center, a subsidiary of the Calumet Industrial District, is attempting to sell industrial revenue bonds to construct a 120,000 square-foot warehouse but the underwriter for the bonds has withdrawn, due to fluctuations in the bond market.

"It is in the company's hands. They are still working on finding other people to buy the bonds," Andres said. He noted that HUD has already granted four extensions of time on the grant and it is uncertain whether another extension will be granted if funding is not secured by Dec. 31.

If the grant is received, $200,000 will be made available for housing improvement loans in Granite City and Madison.

Bakery truck hits cars in lot today

A bakery truck went out of control on Nameoki Road at 4:30 a.m. today and crashed into the used car lot at Stearns Auto Sales, 3709 Nameoki Road, damaging three parked autos.

Joseph Kopechius, 46, St. Louis, driver of the truck, suffered minor injuries, but declined to be taken to the medical center.

He told police he was northbound on Nameoki Road when the truck struck the median north of Garfield Avenue and Kopechius was thrown to the floorboard.

The truck crossed the median at Richmond Avenue, continued north in the southbound lanes and went over the curb into a used car lot, striking two parked cars and pushing one into a third parked car on the lot, police said.

Aides named by Gateway

Matt Melucci, executive director of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council, has announced major staff appointments and program changes in the Community Services Department of the agency.

"These moves were necessary to fill long-standing vacancies," said Melucci. "The appointments are in keeping with the Gateway philosophy of a lean, highly qualified staff."

Rosemary Covington has been named director, Community Services. She will coordinate the activities of the department, which include existing community services programs, assistance to local governments, public information, emergency medical services, the Regional Forum and other citizen input activities. She was previously manager of urban programs for the Ralston Purina Co.

Sheila S. Kilgore has been added to the staff as manager of public information, responsible for the assembly and dissemination of information for the agency. She was formerly a free lance writer and has also worked in television and radio.

William P. Hall has been appointed manager of local government assistance programs. He has a background in public policy, analysis and administration and previously was a Missouri senatorial staff assistant. He also served as a staff assistant to the deputy technical services and assistance to local governments in the Gateway region.

Judy Maschen has been named neighborhood and community programs manager. She formerly served as citizen participation coordinator, and will work as a liaison with citizen groups in the region.

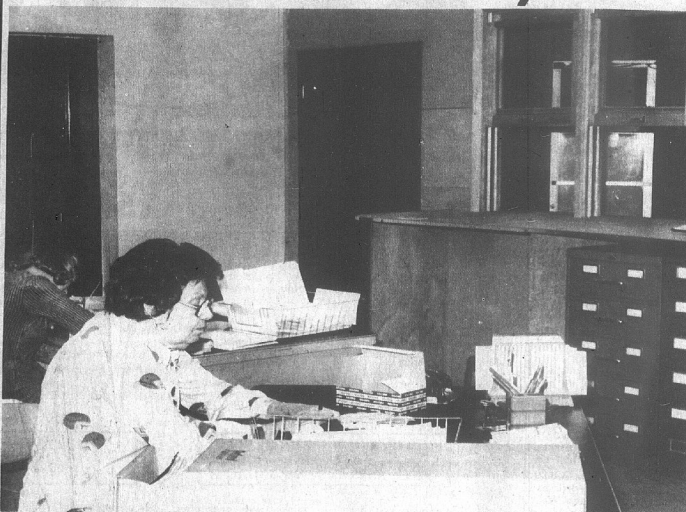

Dolores Johnson has been named coordinator, Regional Forum activities. She will prepare information for the forum and other advisory groups to the Gateway Council. She has been employed in community services of Gateway for the past two years.

Drug unit appeals for funds

Increased participation by cities in the efforts of the Metropolitan Enforcement Group of Southwestern Illinois (MEGSI) in curbing drug traffic is being urged by Richard Woods of Granite City, executive director of MEGSI.

MEGSI sends undercover drug agents into areas where drug traffic is suspected and the agents make purchases and gather evidence leading to major sweeps of arrests of drug sellers.

"We need more funding and more people if we are going to do the kind of job which needs done in this area. Of problem areas, but many cities are not doing their share. Drug traffic does not stop at city limits," he added.

"We are trying to cover 550,000 people with a handful of agents, and we are doing a pretty good job, but there is no question we could be more effective if we had the money and the men," Woods said.

With the backing of the MEGSI Board of Directors, Woods sent letters recently to communities which are not participating in MEGSI, either financially, or by donating an undercover drug agent.

Since MEGSI operates under a federal 50-50 grant, the state gives them $1 for each $1 in time or manpower contributed by any city, county or village.

"We have gotten some response to our letter. Donations have been as small as $500, and one small community gave only $25, but we appreciate any donations we can get," Woods said.

Among the municipalities receiving letters were Madison, Venice and Pontoon Beach. No response has been received from any of the three, thus far.

Pontoon Beach Village Board President Paul Bennett told the Press-Record, "We have discussed the letter, but have taken no action on it yet." He said the letter was referred to the village's police committee to consider a donation.

Woods said he understands it has been difficult for Pontoon Beach to participate in the MEGSI program, but said the police there have been "very helpful" to MEGSI agents.

MEGSI has prepared about 110 cases in Madison County since Woods became executive director in 1977 and, thus far this year, 54 arrests have been made in this county with a 100 percent conviction rate of those taken to trial, Woods said.

"Madison County State's Attorney Nick Byron is really vigorous in prosecuting these people," Woods said of the success in Madison County.

Asked if MEGSI might have to fold if it does not receive additional support, Woods answered, "No. We're here to stay, there's no question about that. The people of Madison County have really gotten their money's worth out of MEGSI," he concluded.

Despite a constant fund squeeze in Granite City, Chief of Police Ronald J. Veizer, who is vice-chairman of the MEGSI Board of Directors, is firmly behind continued support of MEGSI by the city.

"We are not going to drop out. We need MEGSI. It's the best thing we have ever had for combatting drug traffic. Local police cannot handle drug enforcement. The officers are too well known to the dealers. MEGSI brings agents in from other counties and areas who are not known here and they are able to do what our officers cannot," Veizer said.

Arrest 2 in gas theft try

William L. Harris, 19, of 2227 Bryan Ave., and Rocky G. Neuman, 20, of 1325 State St., Madison, were arrested at Edgewood and Willow avenues Thursday and were charged with attempted theft.

Two men allegedly attempted to siphon gasoline from the car of Thomas Herren, 2913 Edgewood Ave., and a neighbor saw them and yelled at them. They fled on Edgewood Avenue, carrying a five-gallon gasoline can, the neighbor said.

Officers stopped two nearby who were walking without coats, even though the temperature was in the low 40s, it was reported. They said their truck had broken down, so officers entered the truck, turned the key and the truck engine started, officers said.

A jacket and a shirt, both soaked with gasoline, were found in the truck, it was alleged. The two then were arrested and the truck was towed to a police holding area.

Center for severely retarded will serve a 34-county region

Nelson Haghauser of Granite City, Madison County Board chairman, will receive a symbolic key to the Specialized Living Center in Swansea at 2 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 15, at an open house at the center.

The center, to be dedicated at 4 p.m. Friday, Nov. 16, will serve severely and profoundly retarded persons in 34 Southern Illinois counties including Madison County.

"We want all residents of the 34 counties to feel that this is their center," said Mrs. Carolyn Chapman, chairman of the St. Clair County Community Mental Health 706 Board, which will operate the center.

"St. Clair County will own the center, and a professional staff under the administrator, Mrs. Nancy Scott, will operate it. But it will serve the special needs of special people throughout Southern Illinois," she said.

The center was built by the state on land provided by the county to provide homelike surroundings in a local community atmosphere so its residents can live at their maximum capacities. It is one of six in the state that are experiments in community living," she said.

The center at Swansea, on the outskirts of Belleville, will house 100 severely and profoundly handicapped adults in six cottages. There also is a central administration building. The complex will have a staff of about 150 and it cost $3 million to build and equip.

"Inquiries about residence are invited," Mrs. Scott said, "and parents or relatives of persons who might need such care especially are invited to visit Nov. 12-16," she said.

The center will be open for tours from 1 to 4:30 p.m. today, Tuesday and Wednesday; 1 to 8 p.m. Thursday, and 1 until 6 p.m. Friday, including the 4 p.m. dedication ceremony.

A 1 p.m. flag raising today was conducted by the Swansea VFW. Former governor Daniel Walker and Congressman Melvin Price participated.

Christmas ideas festival on Saturday

PEOPLE

By VALERIE EVENEDEN

Forty craftsmen and artists will take part in a unique show designed to display and sell crafts, gifts, decorations and ideas — with the emphasis on Christmas — from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. Saturday at the Nameoki Recreation Center, Amos and Franklin avenues.

All items will be handcrafted originals. The public is being invited.

Success of a similar show last year prompted the Granite City Park District to sponsor a repeat performance.

Among the craftsmen participating will be:

David Baker of St. Louis (top right picture), working on a macrame project, will sell his craftwork and demonstrate techniques.

John Simpson of St. Louis (lower left) makes miniature dollhouse furniture and will offer such items Saturday. Last year, he displayed and sold tin craft pieces.

Janis Patton of Granite City (lower right) shows her expertise in the needlework articles she will display at the festival. She teaches needlepoint and counted cross-stitch classes for the park district.

Other booths will feature wooden toys and rocking chairs, baby quilts, bibs and pillows, wheat weaving, handmade candles, picture frames, leather goods, nativity sets, tree skirts, dried and silk flowers, oil paintings, porcelain items, crevel, pressed flower pictures, decoupage, padded shutters, pinecone projects and potpourri.

Universities squeezed on auxiliary programs

Concerns about the implications of phasing out state support for auxiliary enterprise fringe benefits at public universities in Illinois were raised Tuesday by William R. Norwood, vice chairman of the Southern Illinois University board of trustees, at a meeting of the Illinois Board of Higher Education in Chicago.

Norwood, the SIU board's representative to the BHE, said there are no grounds for insisting that university auxiliary enterprises must be completely self-supporting.

He urged the BHE to consider a number of critical questions as it studies the impact of phasing out state support for auxiliary enterprise employees.

Under consideration by the BHE is a staff report in response to a joint resolution of the Illinois Senate, directing a determination of the amount of Illinois

General Revenue Funds appropriated for fringe benefits for auxiliary employees whose salaries are not paid by state appropriated funds — and how the BHE would recommend that the costs be covered if funds were not appropriated for this purpose.

Norwood raised the following questions:

—“If no state funds are involved in auxiliary services, then are employees of these services state employees? On the other hand, if fringe benefits, rates of pay etc., are mandated by the state, then doesn't this fact identify them as state employees, and can't we therefore justify using state funds?”

—“If they are not state employees, shouldn't the institutions be able to establish their own employment requirements? In this event, might they not move to contractual arrangements so as to remove these employees from the public payroll and effect economies?”

—“If we are to have all of the state restrictions with no state support, at what point will our charges for room and board and other services cease to be competitive?”

—“To what extent will additional monies actually be created? For example, one-third of SIU's students receive Illinois State Scholarship Commission (ISSC) grants.

—“Thus, increasing those grants in order to cover a new student fee to replace a lost appropriation would simply move state resources from one place to another. And how about students not receiving ISSC grants? Once more, the middle-income students will suffer.”

Norwood concluded, “If General Revenue Funds are not used to support fringe benefits for auxiliary services employees and if funds to support those benefits cannot be generated by the services themselves — then they must be sought by increasing charges to students or by adding an additional fee. What does this mean to the matter of access and choice at senior public universities?”

A staff recommendation for Board of Higher Education action on the matter is scheduled for consideration at the December meeting of the BHE.

Public university governing boards have been given until Nov. 16 to provide general reactions to the issue and specific information concerning the amount of student fee and/or room and board cost increases needed to offset the phaseout of state support for auxiliary enterprise fringe benefits over a one-year and a three-year period.

The BHE adopted recommendations a year ago asserting that state support for auxiliary enterprises should be phased out over a six-year period. The phaseout is scheduled to be accomplished by the end of the 1984-85 fiscal year.

Recommendations adopted at that time did not include state-funded fringe benefits for auxiliary enterprise employees.

Since then, the auditor general has recommended that the universities pay all costs of auxiliary enterprises, including fringe benefits, from auxiliary enterprise funds.

Extensive fire damage to home

Fire at the home of Jerry A. Duzan, 3246 Franklin Ave., first discovered at 12:15 p.m. Wednesday, caused extensive damage to the attached garage and considerable smoke damage to the attic and the house.

The fire destroyed a boat in the garage; the boat was valued at $2,500. An electrical short-circuit in the wiring of the boat is suspected as the cause. The fire spread from the garage to the attic of the home, firemen said.

No damage estimates had been prepared this morning.

REINHARDT—Realtor Sells—BETTER LIVING

Outdoor gaslights banned for firms

Illinois Power Company is notifying commercial and industrial customers of federal requirements that outdoor gas lighting fixtures had to be discontinued by Nov. 9, 1979.

The deadline for abolishing business use of natural gas for outdoor lighting was established by the Power Plant and Industrial Fuel Use Act, which became law Nov. 9, 1978, said Illinois Power Company Manager of Customer Services J. E. Swift at Decatur.

The same law requires that residential customers and city governments must discontinue the use of natural gas for outdoor lighting by Jan. 1, 1982.

Department of Energy rules to enforce the law contain seven criteria for exemptions from the provisions.

Swift said exemption details and petitions for exemption are available from the nearest Illinois Power customer service center, or from Illinois Commerce Commission offices in Springfield and Chicago.

They are still the ones

PALATINE — Out of nowhere they came. The state champions. For the fourth consecutive season. Granite City south's soccer Warriors.

A month ago, the team was given very little chance of going to the state tournament here, much less winning it, by so-called experts. But they did.

By using their heads as well as their collective feet, the Warriors put together a streak the second half of the season that left opponents laying by the wayside. They weren't blowing out their opponents at first. They saved that for later in the tournament.

First came the sub-sectional at South. Ho-hum. South dominated every game, even though the final scores didn't indicate.

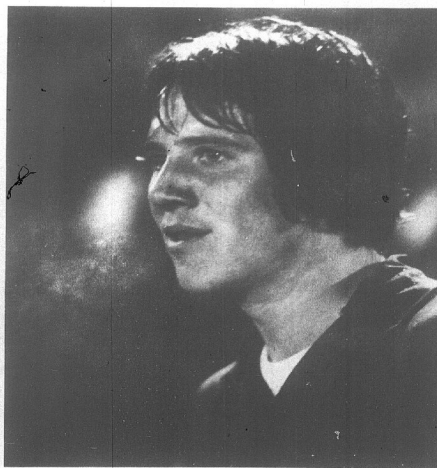

The first game at the state finals was the biggest blowout of the playoffs for South, 7-0 over Wheaton Central. Then came a 2-0 win over Hinckley-Big Rock. Then Saturday night's title match. After falling behind, South came back to win it...again.

They're still the one.

Open house in Madison schools

American Education Week begins today in Madison with the theme "Teach All the Children."

Madison Community Unit District No. 12 will hold open houses as follows:

Tuesday: Blair, Dunbar, junior high and Madison High School 2 p.m. until 4 p.m.

MIIS and the junior high will also be open to the public on Tuesday from 6 p.m. until 8 p.m.

Louis Baer and Harris schools will be open from 2 p.m. until 6 p.m. on Tuesdays.

Wednesday, Blair and

Dunbar will again be open from 2 p.m. until 4 p.m.

National sponsors of American Educational Week are the U. S. Department of Education, National Congress of Parents and Teachers, American Legion and the National Educational Association.

The purpose of the week is to inform the public regarding the schools, to gain the confidence of the community on the job being done in the schools, to show the community how it benefits by the schools and to strengthen public support for the schools.

The three areas of vital concern to the schools of Madison Community Unit 12 and the community are, according to a school spokesman, accountability, responsibility and respect.
